there is a consistent noise nuisance in the area of Homestead Court and that he has tried to track down the offenders with little success. He said that when he

If it's not one dog then it's another, he stated, and then suggested a move by the town to notify dog owners of their responsibility in this area. He suggested that dog owners, as they come in to pick up their licenses, be furnished with a sheet to inform them of the state law which concerns this nuisance. The Selectmen considered this idea an excellent one. Mr. Tatelbaum said that the major annoyance occurs in the early morning hours when people who leave for work very early put the dog out to bark for 3 hours before the rest of the neighborhood should have to awaken. The Selectmen suggested to Mr. Tatelbaum that he call the dog officer in to investigate the next time the problem occurs and that they will consider the reminder sheet for dog owners to be informed of the law.

ASKS FOR 195 SIGN

Peter Martin, owner of the Hillside Motel, requested that the Selectmen ask the State for a gas, food, lodging sign to be placed at the Mattapoisett exit on the Route 195 highway. The Selectmen will investigate the requirements for such a sign and inform Mr. Martin.

jected to the projected budget of the Old Colony Regional Vocational School because it does not contain funds for current union contract increases. According to Mr. Huntoon, all of the other town committees have to deal with this problem and to solve it. Old Colony, he said, wants to submit a budget with the proviso that it might have to be revised upward. He said that this is going to confuse the town meeting budgeting process and necessitates a special town meeting to revise the figures. Mr.

Huntoon said that the Old Colony Committee is not facing the facts.

Selectmen agreed to ask the town's Old Colony representatives to meet with them to oppose this approach. They will ask that any salary raises be estimated and included so that the town will be voting on known figures at town meeting.

PAPER SHREDDER?

Selectmen considered a Town Hall request for a paper shredder by Town Hall personnel. "Why do we need it?" Selectman Huntoon asked. Executive Secretary Carol Adams said that some of the tax bills contain overdue notices and that some 300 requests for tax abatements should be destroyed. The Selectmen were of the opinion that almost all the material is public information and of small volume, that if bundled and sealed and taken directly to the landfill by a town vehicle to be immediately buried any confidentiality would be preserved.

THANK YOU RECEIVED

A thank you was received on behalf of the Torrie Wrightington Fund for the town employees' kind donation.

A resignation as an EMT for the town was received from Gary Gaspar, to become effective March 14th, 1983. A letter of appreciation for his time and service will be sent to Mr. Gaspar.

Letter to The Editor

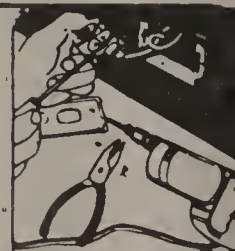

It was a delight to see such a public spirited renovation and improvement in the children's library when I visited with the first grade youngsters recently. The basement now imparts a pleasant, attractive learning climate of much benefit to the young students. I'm certain that parents appreciate what has been done. I do applaud and commend the people of Mattapoisett who have made this generous investment in their children.

Sincerely, Katherine L. Kozicki, look at some of the inhabitants of the several distinct zones between low and high tide. Each zone can be distinguished by a particular organism, whose presence in the zone indicates a certain range of conditions. By learning the identity and life history of this 'indicator' species, one can also learn the dynamics of the less-readily observable non-living factors along the shore. These abiotic factors include salinity, temperature, and duration of tidal submergence or exposure.

Weekly Walks at the Lloyd Center are open to the public and are free of charge. Please call the Center at 990-0505 to register for this walk, as group size will be limited.

The Lloyd Center building is open from Tuesday-Sunday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; the grounds are open 365 days a year, from dawn to dusk.

question session with Dr. Duncan Fitzgerald who will speak on Sedimentation in the Slocum River Embayment and the Westport River Inlet on March 30 in Room 227 of the Group II Building at SMU. This talk will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will deal with major problems which affect the inlets of these two critical rivers.

Dr. Fitzgerald of Boston University's department of geology studied the Westport River Inlet and submitted a report on the sedimentation problems in this area. He will review his findings and recommendations regarding access to the Westport River which is so important to the commerce in this area.

Presently, under his direction, a study is being undertaken to find the sources and potential future of sedimentation at the mouth of the Slocum River, an area used extensively for recreational boating, swimming and shellfishing during the summer months. He will describe the findings of his research team and will make recommendations for controlling sedimentation based on his recent findings. A question and answer session is included.

team anesthetized the Tobey Medics 55-45 in a hard-fought game. The score does not accurately reflect the true defenses of either team, nor the offense clearly hard-fought and at times bordering on exhaustion.

High scorer for the Wareham Police, coached by Norman Sylvester, was T. Cardoza with 18 points, followed closely by R. Tinkham with 12 points. Members of the team included Officers Gifford, Tinkham, Bulgar, Cardoza, West, Miranda, Brightman, Iacinto, Randall, DeBlois, Parker, Hall, Angolid, and Zimmer.

High scorer for the Medics was Dr. T. Gleason with 13 points, followed closely by Paul Cardoza with 11 points and Dan Newberg with 10 points. Dr. G. Johnson played an outstanding game of defense for the Medics. Members of the Tobey team were Cardoza, Newberg, Gleason, Spiro, P. McMahon, Stroud, Sharek, LeBlanc, and J. Bernardo. The Medics were coached by Steve Maloney.

The rivalry will continue as a return game has been already agreed to.

Referees for the game were Don Gomes and Bob Sylvester.

The cheerleaders won the hearts of all who attended; their uniforms of green and white were splendid along with their cheers and acrobatics.

Everyone was a winner last Thursday night, especially Tobey Hospital which was the recipient of the proceeds from the Charity game.

English Gardens

LECTURE AT SMU

Two "gardeners" from Dartmouth will present a narrated slide program on the concept of the English garden on March 31 at Southeastern Massachusetts University.

The free lecture, scheduled for 4 p.m. in the South Lounge of the SMU Library, will be given by Professors Donna Huse of SMU's sociology department and James Sears of the school's biology department.

"Nowhere is the changing relationship between human beings and nature more evident than in the history of the English garden," said Sears. "This program shows how English gardens embody changing ways of using nature and organizing space; from the intellect and control expressed in the formal gardens of the Renaissance, through the Romantic imitation of nature in the landscape garden, to the coming together of the formal and natural styles as working principles of the 20th century garden."

four two-week sessions for boys and girls between six and seventeen years old. Camp Hemlocks, in Connecticut, conducts a ten day program for severely disabled young adults, ages 18-25 years old.

Trained counseling and nursing staffs are available at both facilities. Specially adapted facilities are designed to provide campers with individualized attention. Both camps are wheelchair accessible.

Activities include swimming, archery, wheelchair sports, arts and crafts and field games. A low counselor to camper ratio enables all activities to be adapted to enable each camper to participate at his or her ability.

At Agassiz Village campers are integrated in many activities with able-bodied youngsters. Many Easter Seal campers have able-bodied brothers and sisters who attend Agassiz Village with them.

Transportation is provided to and from Maine each session with a central pick-up location at the Newton Holiday Inn. Camper-ships are available for qualifying youngsters.

For more information and an application call 676-1089; or call toll free in Worcester, 1-800-922-8290 or write to Massachusetts Easter Seal Society, 263 Stanley Street, Fall River, MA. 02720.

One of the most distinguished journalists on television, Barbara Walters is best known for her exclusive interviews with world figures. She scored a major coup with her interview with Nancy Reagan soon after the attempt on the president's life. Other interviews with political figures have included Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, President Hussein of Iraq, Spiro Agnew, Fidel Castro, Indira Gandhi, and Richard Nixon in his first network television interview since leaving office. She made journalistic history by arranging the first joint interview with Egypt's President Anwar Sadat and Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin in November 1977 during Sadat's historic visit to Jerusalem. For this interview she was awarded the Hubert H. Humphrey Freedom Prize by the Anti-Defamation League.

Skating Show

The Taunton Area Figure Skating Club's Board of Directors announced the date of their annual show during last week's board meeting. April 10th will be the date with two shows, at 1:00 and 6:00 p.m. at the Taunton Memorial Rink, said Club President, Mrs. Sandra Fernandes.

A great line-up of amateur skaters and several guest skaters will present "Celebration on Ice" as their end-of-season headliner.

The TAFSC Board's selection of this year's show director saw the return of P.S.G.A. member Ms. Rita L. Blair, staff professional. Ms. Blair was the director of the club's first show which so many people will recall. She brings professionalism and expertise to all the skaters performing for the public.

Several group numbers will delight audiences as they show how area children have truly progressed during their skating season. Solo spots by members of TAFSC will also highlight these group numbers. TAFSC soloists have also competed locally in several competitions earning medals and ribbons for their efforts. Sharing the spotlight with club members will be students of the "Learn to Skate" programs from the surrounding areas of greater New Bedford, Fall River and Taunton. This is a unique endeavor for the club and brings this year's show cast to over one hundred skaters. Colorful costumes have been planned by Costumer Mrs. Lee Murray of New Bedford and several committee members.

Heading this year's show is shared by Mrs. Sandra Fernandes and Mrs. Diane Kraihanzel with the following chores being assigned to other members: publicity under the guidance of Mrs. June Easingwood; tickets, Mrs. Fran White; program book, Mrs. Barbara Hewitson; and advertising, Mr. James Furness.

QUAKER EXHIBITION

An exhibition, Quakers of Old Dartmouth, will open at the New Bedford Whaling Museum, 18 Johnny Cake Hill, on April 15 through June 10. Using portraits, silhouettes, clothing, photographs, correspondence and other documents and artifacts, this exhibition will provide a clearer understanding of how the Quakers shaped Old Dartmouth's early history.

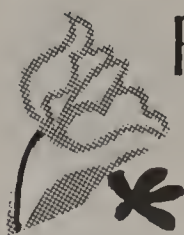

One of the most surprising occurrences in this early history took place in 1751 when 3,000 men, women and children gathered at the Friends Meeting at Apponagansett to hear the preaching of Mary Weston, an English Friend. The total population of Dartmouth township numbered about 4,000, so either three-quarters of the town turned out or the occasion drew many from farther afield. Whatever the case, the Quakers clearly made up the largest religious body in the town and their influence on its history was pervasive and profound.

The restrained Quaker attitude towards worldly things is suggested by the "plain style" clothing which will be on exhibit. Their devotion to the written word will be seen in the early tracts, Rules of Discipline, marriage certificates and other manuscripts on display.

A series of lectures, programs and special events is planned during the exhibition. The Whaling Museum is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; Sunday, 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.; and the Quaker exhibition may be seen from April 15 through June 10.

Each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. Museum docents will be available to interpret and answer questions.

QUAKER PROGRAMS AT WHALING MUSEUM

With the cooperation of the Inter-Church Council of Greater New Bedford, a number of events and programs will be held in conjunction with the exhibition, Quakers of Old Dartmouth. This exhibition will open at the New Bedford Whaling Museum, 18 Johnny Cake Hill, on April 15th through June 10th.

Professor McLoughlin will discuss the Quaker's struggle for religious liberty during the period 1692-1734. Following his presentation the exhibit will be opened.

Arrangements have been made to open several Friends Meeting Houses in the area on Sunday, April 24, from 2:00 - 5:00 p.m. For further information please contact the Inter-Church Council.

An informal talk and tour of the exhibition will be offered by Richard C. Kugler, Museum Director, on Thursday, April 28, at 2:30 p.m. Reservations must be made by calling the Whaling Museum.

At the Spring Street Meeting House in New Bedford, on Wednesday, May 4, at 8 p.m., Rev. Don E. Stanley will discuss "The Quakers' Eden and Its Serpents".

the deadline for all applications to be submitted for the Council's Historic Conservation Program. The program is designed to assist cultural organizations across the state preserve items in their collections that have specific artistic or historic significance, through matching funds for the professional conservation of these objects.

In previous years, the Historic Conservation Program has primarily served historical societies, libraries and museums. This year the Council is actively seeking applications from a wide variety of cultural groups, particularly organizations with archival holdings of significance. According to Susan Hartnett, Director of Special Programs, the intent of this expansion is to protect valuable objects that may not otherwise have been saved because they are not included in the usual sphere of museum or historical society holdings. "We're looking for applications from all groups which may have objects to be conserved," explained Ms. Hartnett. "For example, a dance company may own an early set of dance notation or rare photographs that chart the history of their company. A theatre company might possess old costumes and hand painted posters that would make an important public exhibit. A literature group may well own old manuscripts that will deteriorate without further attention."

Anne Hawley, Executive Director of the Council, added, "Conservation has always been a high priority for the Council because it is through examining our past that we can better understand the present and manage our future. Massachusetts has an unusually rich cultural heritage, but many items from that heritage have suffered wear and tear from years of being handled, displayed and sometimes neglected. The deterioration of these objects must be arrested, or else we will lose our history, piece by piece."

In the past, Historic Conservation funds have gone to preserve such items as: the wedding vest of John Adams; an unusual collection of photographs from 19th-century Connecticut River Valley; a collection of silk and paper 18th and 19th-century Chinese export fans; and five paintings by Massachusetts folk artist, Erastus Salisbury Field.

Funding decisions are based on the artistic or historic merit of the materials to be conserved, the importance of the material to the collection or organization, the accessibility of the material to the public, the applicants' ability to preserve the material and financial need. After a panel of conservation professionals reviews the applications and makes recommendations, the Council makes all final funding decisions. Interested applicants should call Klare Shaw, Program Coordinator at the Council on the Arts and Humanities, 727-3668, for guidelines and applications.

PETER F. COVILLE

MATTAPOISETT SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Voters of Mattapoisett:

For the past three years, I have consistently demonstrated to you my firm belief in strong public education. My voting record has echoed that belief. Our own two children are products of the Mattapoisett elementary schools and continue their education at our fine regional high school.

In this period of limited funding, a commitment to public education can only be as effective as the background and experience your elected officials can provide. During the next three years, I will continue to work for the maintenance of excellence in our public schools.

Make your vote work effectively for you once again. On April 5, vote to re-elect Peter F. Coville ... an educated choice.

HOTLINE ANNOUNCED TO ASSIST PREGNANT WOMEN WHO HAVE QUESTIONS ABOUT POSSIBLE HARMFUL ENVIRONMENTAL EXPOSURES

You've just discovered you're pregnant. But two weeks ago you had a chest x-ray examination during a routine physical, and you're concerned for the health of the baby. Where can you get some help?

The Birth Defect Center at the Floating Hospital for Infants and Children has established a PREGNANCY/ENVIRONMENTAL HOTLINE to answer questions regarding the effect the environment may have on the health of pregnant women and their unborn children. The number to call is toll-free: 1-800-322-5014, and is available between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. It is under the direction of Drs. Murray Feingold and Louis Bartoshesky.

The PREGNANCY/ENVIRONMENTAL HOTLINE will make it possible for women who are considering pregnancy or who are presently pregnant to obtain answers regarding the effect of chemicals, medication, environmental factors, radiation, alcohol, infections, or any other agent that may harm the fetus. All calls will be confidential. A co-ordinator will refer all
